The MELISSA door range is an exceptionally stylish and versatile door that brings unique elegance and modernity to any interior. Characterised by its straight edge glazing beads, MELISSA creates a door with a unique appearance that combines sculptural elegance and playfulness. MELISSA is distinguished by its stepped and minimalist decoration and the absence of rounded details, which makes it a versatile door for different interiors. This door can be successfully integrated into both classic and modern minimalist spaces, adding sophistication to them.

The TEANO door line is the art of classic style in a modern twist. The main noticeable element of the TEANO doors is the rounded glazing bead, which fits perfectly into the overall design, repeating the shape of the panels and creating a harmonious combination of elements. TEANO carries sophistication and grandeur, while maintaining elegant simplicity, and never becoming too pretentious. This line is a balance between luxury and minimalism, between classic elegance and modern style. The proportions of the TEANO doors are carefully considered, ensuring their harmonious appearance. The symmetry and clean lines give this door a sense of restrained symmetry and order, making it the perfect choice for interiors where it is important to create an impression of balance and respectability.

The Fine line is a vivid example of European style with characteristic notes of lightness and unpretentiousness. This unique range represents a modern creative reinterpretation of classic doors with glass. A special feature of the FINE line is the shallow milling that imitates the design of doors with glass inserts, adding a sophisticated touch to your home interior. Each door from the FINE line combines lightness and functionality, creating a modern atmosphere in a neoclassical style.

The FINE CLEAR door range is a sophisticated blend of modern and classic design, representing a more relaxed interpretation of classic glass doors. These doors retain the beauty of symmetry and the severity of the lines, making them exceptionally elegant and easy to perceive. One of the most distinctive features of the FINE CLEAR line is the classic English lattice made using straight slats. This design element gives the door a sophisticated and elegant look. The FINE CLEAR door leaves are particularly light and pleasing to the eye, creating an atmosphere of calmness and sophistication. They are ideal for those who appreciate the combination of traditional features with modern style, making every room special and unique.

The main concept of the VERDE line is the minimal use of decorative elements. All unnecessary details have been excluded to avoid distracting attention from the main thing - a unique design based on the play of volumetric bevels and planes. The doors of this line impress with their simplicity and at the same time are a functional element of the interior and its additional architectural decoration. The combination of minimalism, geometric precision and expressive shapes makes VERDE doors a highlight of a stylish interior.

The SIENA door line is a masterful combination of modern design and classic elegance.

The minimalist, bevelled door leaf design with its straight edge and moulding, complemented by straight ledges, gives the model a modern look that is nevertheless based on a classic foundation. The main decorative role here is played not by individual details or elements, but by the complex perception of the geometric shape created by the unique bevelled cover and the moulding.

The name of this line is inspired by a warm, sunny Mediterranean city on the Italian coast. The PALERMO door line is an art of light and glass play that creates an incredible visual effect. The unique fastening of the panel creates the impression that the door is levitating in the air, giving the interior a unique lightness and elegance. This amazing effect is most evident in the dark, when light penetrates smoothly through the glass.

The inspiration for the GARDA line was the long-established CORSO model. The main feature of GARDA is the increased width of the bevelled baguette, which now protrudes above the surface of the door leaf, adding a modern accent to the door. The door panel also received a characteristic slope and indentation from the baguette, giving the door a unique style. These changes provide GARDA with a modern, sophisticated look and give the door its own personality. GARDA is an exceptional collection of doors that combines reliability and style, ideal for modern interiors.
